EDMONTON REPORT

By Donald F. Smith
Special Correspondent

EDMONTON. Gradually things are being done to Alberta's gigantic "sleeping giant", the oil sands in the northeastern corner of the province.

Latest development was announced last week in the capital. Two Calgary oil companies have taken an option to purchase the government-owned oil sands extraction plant at Bitumont, near McMurray.

The two companies, it is reported, have a process for extracting the oil from the sand and during the 18-month period the option will run plan to see if their process can be co-ordinated with the facilities of the Bitumont plant.

The option price is $19,552. If the companies decide before the end of 1955 to buy the plant and the 47 acres on which it stands, they will pay $180,000. The provincial government also would approve a lease giving the companies rights to 5,354 acres of oil-soaked sands in the area.

The option was issued by the government after the second call for bids on the plant, which was developed and operated in order to establish a commercially-feasible method of separating oil from the sands. This has been done to the satisfaction of the Alberta Research Council and having no further use for the pilot plant, it was put on the auction block.

Just what the new developments mean in terms of production from the fabulous oil sands remains to be seen.

Work in the wilds of northeastern Alberta, where hundreds of billions of barrels of oil lie imprisoned in many thousands of acres of sand, has been going on for many years. In fact it is exactly 60 years ago that the first oil well was drilled into the sands by the federal geological survey.

A second well, which struck terrific gas pressure, started a rush of private drillers. But time, money and energy showed that all the oil was in the sands, locked in, and not to be found in pools such as the oilmen were accustomed to elsewhere in the world.

To many, it meant the vast reserve, largest oil field in the world was useless, only a curiosity from which no good could come. Fortunately, to others it was a challenge—a process to separate the oil and sand remained to be found. It was, and no doubt, variations and modifications are being developed today.

Even if an economically-feasible method of production is a reality and commercial production of oil from the sands is within reach, many problems remain to be solved before the full impact of the oil sands is felt in Alberta.

For instance, there is the transportation problem. This involves both the difficulty and expense of freightage vast amounts of equipment and supplies into the area and even greater problem of shipping the oil out of the wilderness area. Then, there is the question of marketing the oil. With continuing development of Alberta's oil fields, more markets are essential. The pipelines east and west carry only so much oil and the province's wells are allowed to produce only so much in any given period.

One solution to the shipping problem was advanced away back in 1883 by Dr. Robert Bell, a noted geographer and naturalist, who probed the mysterious sands before 1880. His suggestion was the construction of a pipeline from the McMurray area east to Port Churchill, on Hudson Bay, from where the oil could be shipped in ocean-going tankers.

The two Calgary companies, interested in purchasing the Bitumont plant, are Can-Amersa Oil Sands Development Ltd. and Mill Creek Oil Company Limited, both headed by S. M. Paulson.

He reported that earlier this summer 40,000 pounds of oil sands were sent to New York state, where construction of the companies' oil extraction equipment is being completed. Tests there were successful and resulted in the deal with the government. The equipment is expected to be shipped to McMurray sometime in August.

Wins First Two Games

Granum Has Good Grip On League Championship

Despite two solid pitching efforts by southpaw Jack Altman, Vulcan Elks dropped the two opening games in their three-out-of-five series against the Granum White Sox for the Wesley Trophy and the Foothills-Wheatbelt League championship. Third game was to be played at Vulcan Wednesday evening of this week.

Elks obviously miss the services of their two heavy hitters, Joe Ybanez and Clayton Clarkson, for it has been lack of hitting power coupled with a rash of errors that has made them drop the two games.

Granum 5 - Vulcan 2
At Vulcan on Wednesday of last week, the game featured a pitching duel between Joe Jankola, erratic Granum right-hander, and stylish Jack Altman, both moundsmen getting 12 strikeouts. Jankola only allowed the Elks five scattered hits but issued ten free passes. Altman, getting poor support from his mates, gave up 12 hits and no walks. Only three of the Granum runs were earned. Vulcan errors allowing the other two.

The short-handed Elks had asked the league for three replacements but have only been allowed one and have been using Sev Pasolli of the Champion Red Sox.

A good crowd of 800 fans attended the game.

Granum 4 - Vulcan 2
The White Sox had a stranglehold on the Foothills-Wheatbelt championship following Sunday's game at Granum as Vulcan Elks again failed to get hits when they were needed and pulled some costly fumbles.

Frank Stone fired a four-hitter for the White Sox, allowing seven walks and a tired Jack Altman, pitching his sixth complete game in three weeks, gave up eight hits and allowed four walks, the most free passes he has given in any game this season.

Don Jantzie's double in the top half of the ninth was Vulcan's only extra-base blow of the game. Roy Lettimore, Sev Pasolli and Jim Pruden all got singles.

There were 900 in attendance at the game.

SERVICE BOARD NOTES

H. S. Burns, Field Supervisor

Wheat streak mosaic is more prevalent in Southern Alberta this year than in the other years since its recognition in 1952. The disease has been found in over 80 per cent of the winter wheat fields examined in surveys made from the Science Service Laboratory at Lethbridge. Although most fields contain only scattered diseased plants, approximately 20 to 25 per cent of the fields in areas where winter wheat has been grown for several years are moderately to severely damaged by the disease. Between 20 or 30 fields of severely diseased winter wheat has been discarded, with the intention of planting oats or barley. Streak mosaic poses a further threat to several spring wheat crops that farmers have planted near diseased winter wheat. It is interesting to note that the farmers who had wheat crops severely damaged with wheat streak mosaic last year, but who followed the recommendations of not seeding winter wheat before early September, and of eliminating all living wheat plants in the area before seeding, have their crops almost free from the disease this year. As several farmers of the area around Vulcan have signified their intention of seeding winter wheat this year, we thought it might be advisable to print this timely article which has reached us through the Department of Agriculture publications from Ottawa. Any one interested in seeing the ravages of this disease can do so by visiting the Experimental Station at Lethbridge.

Three quarters of New Brunswick's land is covered with inextinguishable timber.

Harry C. Douglass, District Pioneer, Dies Suddenly

The entire district was shocked and grieved to learn of the sudden death last Thursday morning of H. C. Douglass of the Berrywater community.

Harry Carl Douglass was born 60 years ago at Burt, Iowa, the youngest son of John Douglass and his wife, the former Philancy Van Buskirk. He came to Alberta, with his parents from Carthage, Mo. in 1905, when his father homesteaded in the Highland district, north of the present site of Vulcan, years before the railroad went through. Three years later the Douglass family moved to the Berrywater district, east of town, where Harry still resided on the original, Douglass farm.

He was married to Olive Carr in 1927, and to them was born one son and one daughter.

Mr. Douglass joined the Expeditionary Force of the R.C.M.P., destined for service in Siberia, during the first World War, but due to a severe illness he did not proceed overseas. He was always keenly interested in all community endeavors, being an original signer for the Wheat Pool when the Pool was organized. He served on the Municipal Hospital Board and on the Vulcan and District Board of Trade. He was active in the old U.F.A. movement and later when the organization was changed to the F.U.A., and he was a member of the Canadian Legion, Vulcan branch.

He leaves to mourn him his wife, Olive, his son Stuart and daughter, (Mary) Mrs. Vernal Haga, Vulcan; a nephew, James Phelan of Edmonton, whom the Douglass reared from early boyhood; five grand children; three brothers, Will of Minot, N. D. and Ed of N. D. and Lou of High River, two sisters, Mrs. Frank Davis and Mrs. Donald Smith, Vulcan.

Funeral services, conducted by the Rev. J. S. Clarke were held from the Vulcan United Church, Saturday, Aug. 8. Cecil Warden sang "Beyond the Sunset" during the services, accompanied by Mrs. N. K. Budd.

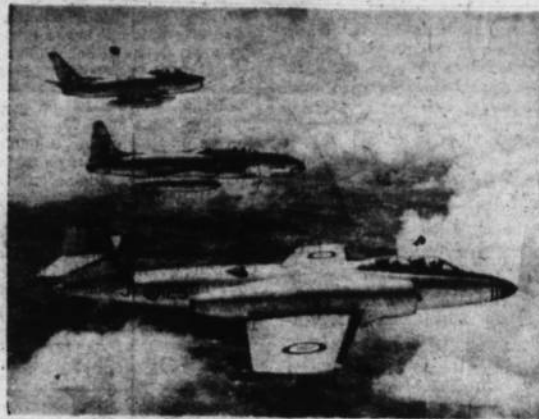

Honorary pall-bearers were: Dave Sim, P. J. Haslam, Cliff Love R. L. Elves, W. Oldfield, Bill McMullin, N. K. Budd, Roy Adams, George Murray and G. C. Collier. Pallbearers were Bob Hill, Bill Houlton, Roy Omstead, Fred Messenger, Howard Jurney and Arlo Jurney. Interment was made in the Mountain View Memorial Gardens at Calgary.

Swim Instructors All Pass Tests

Sharon Buehler, Leland Arnold and Warner Roebuck were successful candidates at the Red Cross Swimming and Water Safety Instructors' School held at Red Deer last week.

Students at this school are trained in all the latest methods of swimming instruction, as well as safe boating practices.

Congratulations are extended to the successful candidates for having passed this difficult course with high marks, thereby maintaining a standard set by previous instructors who have qualified from Vulcan.

FAST COMPANY. The RCAF's outstanding jet aircraft get in a bit of practice for their Western Tour which will give thousands of prairie and West Coast Canadians the opportunity of seeing the RCAF's foremost jet fighter and trainers in a combined display.

Attack Service Corps

Highlanders and RCASC Tangle In Mock Battle

The 49th Tipper Company, RCA SC, of High River, Nanton and Turner Valley, under command of Major Ross Ellis of High River, held an overnight camp at the Dan Simms farm in the Vulcan district last weekend.

Purpose of the Service Corps unit scheme was driver training but some unexpected training in a defensive role was added to their program when the Vulcan and Carmangay platoons of the Calgary Highlanders made a surprise attack on the camp at 10:30 Saturday night.

Sentries had been posted by the High River unit and their vehicles were well camouflaged in the trees. A diversionary attack, using smoke bombs, parachutes, flares, thunder flashes and blank ammunition, was launched from the east by a section of men under S Sgt. Scotty Sutherland while a scout section under Lt. Ed Arney captured sentries at the south of the camp to open the way for the main assault group of 20 men led by Capt. Fred Scott. When the main attack got under way the sections led by S/Sgt. Sutherland and Lt. Arney entered the RCASC camp from the rear to "destroy" vehicles and tents.

The attacking force was directed by Major Bob Munro and an official observer from Headquarters, Western Command, was present for the scheme.

Swimmers To Get Awards Saturday

Achievement day for the children who have taken swimming lessons this summer will be held Saturday, Aug. 14 at the Vulcan Memorial Pool.

A program embracing diving and swimming competitions and stunts as well as awards of badges and crests has been planned.

This day is the big event of the year for all the boys and girls and is open to the public with parents especially urged to attend.

1805 Paper Gives Official Account Battle of Trafalgar

A well-preserved copy of the London Times, dated Nov. 7, 1805, has been loaned to the Advocate by Mrs. Guy Denbigh.

This small four-page paper is of particular interest because it contains Admiral Collingwood's official account of the Battle of Trafalgar, fought on Oct. 21, 1805, when the British Navy defeated the combined French and Spanish fleets and England's great naval hero, Lord Nelson, lost his life during the battle.

Half the space in the paper is given to the official account of the battle, to the Times' comments and the official casualty lists. Advertising, theatre news and the activities of the Royal Family occupy the balance of space.

Mrs. Denbigh also has in her possession Vol. 1, No. 1 of the English magazine "Tit-Bits," dated Oct. 22, 1881, which is probably the forerunner of the popular digest magazines of the present day.

Charles Campbell is Victim

Young Local Man Drowns After Boating Accident

Lake McGregor, 18 miles east of Vulcan, took its second life this year on Sunday when Charles Hiram Campbell, aged 32, drowned while trying to swim to shore from a boat which had fallen apart.

The young man and his wife, Verna, accompanied by Roy McDonald and Miss Betty Hansell, had gone to the lake to spend the afternoon fishing. They had borrowed a light, home-made boat equipped with an outboard motor. After rowing the boat about 50 feet from shore Campbell started the motor and the boat lurched heavily and then split in two, throwing all four occupants into the water. All four started to swim for shore, but Mrs. Campbell, Miss Hansell and McDonald turned back and clung to part of the overturned boat. In the meantime, Campbell had become entangled in the heavy weeds that infest the lake and went down before anyone could assist him. The others, clinging to the boat, managed to paddle themselves to shore in a few minutes.

McDonald ran to the home of Burnell Drummond, half-a-mile away, to summon help and a phone call to Vulcan brought Town Constable J. L. Moyer and a party of volunteers rushing to the scene of the tragedy, bringing with them the inhalator from the swimming pool and a set of grappling irons.

The irons were lost in the dense weeds in the initial efforts to recover the body but more equipment was secured and the search continued until 12:30, Monday noon, when the body was recovered from the treacherous weeds some 20 feet below the lake surface. During the dragging operations the police were assisted by more than 200 volunteers from the town and district.

A native son of this district, Charles Campbell is survived by his father, Dale Campbell of Vulcan; his wife, the former Verna Smith; two small daughters and one son. He was a veteran of World War Two and a member of the Canadian Legion.

Coroner Dr. A. D. Tompkins has ruled the cause of death to be accidental and no inquest will be held.

Funeral services, conducted by E. G. Hansell, were held at the Vulcan United Church on Wednesday afternoon, Aug. 11. Pallbearers were Ken Loucks, Jim Pruden, Alfred Ullly, Gordon Chapman, George Seaman and George Gooch.

The graveside service was conducted by the Vulcan Branch, Canadian Legion, with the firing party and trumpet provided by the Calgary Highlanders. Interment was made in the Canadian Legion plot at the Vulcan cemetery.

Field Day Is Sponsored By Line Elevators

About 75 farmers from Vulcan and district attended a meeting held in connection with the Field Variety Plots on the farm of Gordon Clayton last week. The plots were sponsored by the Line Elevators Farm Service of Winnipeg and the local Pioneer Grain agent, Ken Loucks.

Interesting talks on Cereal Varieties and Forage Crops were given by Dr. F. J. Greaney, director of Line Elevators Farm Service, Winnipeg and D. M. McLean of Pioneer Grain Company.

T. Anderson of the Dominion Experimental Station, Lethbridge, discussed new trends in fertilizers and important aspects of cultural practices to control wind and water erosion.

The use of a trash cover was stressed by Mr. Anderson.

H. J. Mather, assistant director run by the Guides for the Guides, and the girls were rewarded by a week of work and fun and a sense of achievement impossible to attain in any other way.

Those attending from Vulcan were Patrol Leader Marianne Burns, Secondar Diane Collier, and Guides Shannon Houlton, Cassie Graham, Sharon Houlton, Heather Marsh and Gloria Jones. Frances Earl attended for the week-end.

The girls were accompanied by their leader Mrs. Russell Graham.

45th Anniversary Ensign Couple Is Observed

To mark the occasion of the 45th wedding anniversary on Sunday, August 1st of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Hansen of Calgary, formerly of Ensign, some 50 friends gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hansen.

The house was decorated with a profusion of flowers and in a blue theme to represent the sapphire of the 45th anniversary.

A rose bud corsage made by Mrs. Harold Bride was presented to the honored guest, Mrs. E. Hansen.

The highlight of the occasion was a mock wedding performed by Rev. J. S. Clarke of Vulcan, with the wedding march being played by Mrs. J. S. Clarke. The bride of 45 years ago was given away by F. M. Hotter of Calgary. The bride's attendants were Mrs. E. P. Hansen and Mrs. F. M. Motter of Calgary with flower girls being Misses Bonnie Morrison of Nanton and Marilyn Hansen. Rev. J. S. Clarke rendered a solo "I'll Walk Beside You", accompanied by Mrs. Clarke at the piano.

A delicious buffet luncheon was served by co-hostesses, Mrs. Harold and Mrs. Henry Hansen. Servers were Mrs. Charles Morrison, and daughters Dixie and Bonnie of Nanton, Mrs. Harold Bride and daughters Marjorie and Elaine and Miss Marilyn Hansen.

The toast was proposed by Mr. F. M. Motter who mentioned his long association with the honored couple, and stressing a few of the experiences with Mr. Hansen since their first acquaintance in Chicago in 1905. This was ably responded to by the honored guests. The double-tiered wedding cake was cut and several beautiful gifts were opened.

The bride and groom of 45 years ago expressed their thanks for the lovely gifts, for the good wishes of the assembled guests and to their family for providing the celebration. The day also marked their son Harold's birthday, and the afternoon was brought to a close by the chorus of Happy Birthday.

Out-of-town guests were from Calgary, High River, Okotoks, Nanton, De Winton and Vauxhall.

Line Elevators Farm Service, Winnipeg, was chairman of the meeting.

Mrs. Ross, Household Economist of Calgary gave a very interesting demonstration on new gadgets, useful in the kitchen to the ladies present.

THE WEATHER

Following last week's destructive hail storms, when the big Monday evening storm was followed by smaller storms both Tuesday and Wednesday in the area north of Vulcan, fine weather has prevailed and crops that escaped hail damage show promise of a better-than-average yield.

Important Notice to all SHORN SHEEP:

OUR OVINE FRIENDS will be glad to know that in future they may be spared the undignified and chilly experience of being sheared of their wool to keep us warm. A new lightweight lining material for men's and women's clothes combines fabric and aluminum to give more than three times the insulating value of a similar weight of wool cloth. Humans, too, will be glad if this hastens the end of heavy, bulky winter wear. The material can be dry-cleaned, drapes well and is sufficiently porous to let the body "breathe". Just one more example of the way Canadian manufacturers are combining aluminum and imagination for better, easier living. Aluminum Company of Canada, Ltd. (Alcan).

Modern Insecticides

Around The Home

Modern Insecticides Around the Home is the title of a useful leaflet published, during 1953 by B. Hocking, Department of Entomology, University of Alberta.

During the last decade many new insecticides have been developed, the above mentioned leaflet describes those most likely to be useful around the home. They all have poisonous properties to humans and pets as well as to insects, and should be handled accordingly. Excessive contact with them, especially in oil solution, prolonged breathing of dusts, sprays or vapours or direct application to food or surfaces on which food is prepared should be avoided.

DDT is a white, somewhat sticky crystalline powder, with a not unpleasant smell. It is almost insoluble in water, a very persistent poison, and the most readily available of those described here.

Chlordane is a thick, brownish liquid with a chlorine smell, but is only available in the form of prepared insecticides. It has similar properties to DDT, but is rather more poisonous to man.

Lindane looks much like granulated sugar. It is less persistent than DDT or Chlordane, but is more effective as a vapour, and safer to humans.

Aramite is an organic sulphur compound and is obtainable as a 15 percent wettable powder for use against mites. It is very persistent and quite safe to humans.

These insecticides are usually prepared in the following formulations:

Oil solutions of the poisons, usually in deodorized coal oil. DDT at 5 percent, Chlordane at 2 1/2 percent and Lindane at 1/2 percent. Oil solutions should never be used on plants or near an open flame, but are the best preparations for spraying into cracks, around baseboards, under sinks, and on screens and window ledges, to leave a residual deposit which, often for many weeks afterwards will kill insects crawling over it.

Wettable powders are powders which can be mixed with water to make spray suspensions, for which purpose they are very convenient. They are intended mainly for use on plants.

Dusts are intended for dry application, in the condition in which they are supplied, and are also most widely used on plants.

The various formulations of these materials may be used to control the following insects: Ants, bedbugs, carpet beetles, clothes moths, clover mites, cockroaches, fleas, flour beetles, houseflies, lice, mosquitoes, silverfish.

The leaflet lists the insecticide and its proper formulation to use, when dealing specifically with each one of the above insect pests. Copies of this leaflet are available from the office of your District Agriculturist.

Canadians as a whole spend close to $50,000,000 on dental bills, in the course of a year.

Maybe you deserve
a key to the city

Many people—probably including you too—deserve to be honoured for rendering certain important services to their communities.

Very few of these people are celebrities, public heroes or leading dignitaries. Mostly, they're "just plain folks". But together they help create much-needed new public works, homes, building and industrial developments. All of which promote progress and provide thousands of jobs.

How do these people play a part in such big projects? Simply by owning life insurance. For it is money from their premiums, which life insurance companies invest for them, that makes it possible for many of these projects to be completed.

Thanks to these same people, life insurance companies are able to contribute funds to medical research work in a wide range of vital fields. As a result, Canadians may look forward to living longer, healthier lives.

What's more, every life insurance policyholder tries to save his family from ever having to depend on others for their support. This, too, is a service to his community. That's why, if you own life insurance, you deserve "a key to the city".

P.S. from your life insurance man

"Invested life insurance dollars earn interest that makes it possible for you and your family to enjoy the benefits of life insurance at such low cost. If you have any questions about how to make life insurance fit your own special needs, give me a call. I'll be glad to help you!"

MAJORVILLE

Hail damage was reported this week from the farms of Fred Bertschy and Alex Hagg. Although not expected to be extensive, it is not sometimes known until harvest time just how badly the crops were hit. The storm that brought the hail also brought some of the heaviest rain ever to fall in the district. 77 fell in an hour during a supertime storm which also brought heavy lightning and thunder. Altogether from 2 to 3 inches of rain fell in the district during the first three days of the week.

We thought mumps had left us but just recently we heard that Mrs. Jim Dew had been a victim. Friends will be glad to know she is now fully recovered.

John Bartsch and Jay accompanied by Hope and Bruce Jacobs, left on Thursday for Kaslo, B. C. The latter are returning home after a month's visit with the Bartsch's. John and Jay expect to get in some successful fishing during the weekend.

Will members of the FWUA please note the August meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Papp. A produce sale will be a feature of the afternoon. Members who have afghan squares are asked to turn them in at the meeting so that the afghan can be completed.

Mrs. Bertschy went to Calgary to be near her daughter, Mrs. Tom Barr of Mossleigh who underwent surgery during the week.

Mr. and Mrs. Wellman arrived home on Thursday from a trip over the Alaska highway that took them to Circle City in the Yukon. Mrs. Wellman took pictures of a baseball game being played at mid night in Fairbanks. They had a wonderful trip with no trouble and to tell about all the places they visited isn't possible in a local news column but one incident near home could have turned out to be no joke. It was late when Wellman's got near Champion so they decided to spend the night with their foster-son Burton Hingley. But Burton and his household had retired. The car is pullmanized so our neighbors decided to sleep in the car. Burton had heard the car drive in and went out with a gun to see who was stealing chickens. Had Burton been a trigger happy sort of a guy no telling what would have happened. Mrs. Wellman's niece, Sylvia Angles came back from B. C. with them to spend a few weeks holiday on the prairie.

The nickle draw was won by Mrs. Weber. The entertainment consisted of the following: an accordion solo and card tricks by Sheila Cooke, a piano piece by Elvren Charlton, a guest from Lethbridge, and a contest in which all the members took part. Following the meeting a tasty lunch was served by Mrs. Thurlow assisted by Mrs. Malsey.

MILO

Milo Couple Wed in Calgary
Central United Church in Calgary was the scene of a pretty wedding on August 7 when Marjorie Anne Palmer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. Palmer of Milo, became the bride of Gordon Hugh Winch, third son of Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Winch of Milo. Rev. Switzer performed the ceremony.

The bride was given in marriage by her father and wore a light blue suit with white accessories and her corsage was of red rose buds. She also carried a bouquet of baby red roses. Mrs. Louise Winch was maid of honor and wore a brown suit and her corsage was of pink carnations. The groom was attended by his brother Floyd of Calgary. A small reception followed at the Mandarin Cafe. Mrs. Palmer chose for her daughter's wedding a blue and white nylon dress with which she wore a corsage of pink carnations. Mrs. Winch, the mother of the groom, chose a navy and white two-piece dress and a corsage of pink carnations. The young couple are spending their honeymoon at Couer de Alene, Idaho and upon their return will make their home in Milo.

A shower in honor of Mrs. De Geer, formerly Mae Kole, was held on the evening of July 30 at the home of Mrs. John Kole. The room was beautifully decorated in pink and white streamers as also
